A collection of 30 different types of metal trays and containers, including various sizes, shapes, and materials (aluminum, stainless steel, copper). The items are arranged in a grid-like fashion, showcasing a wide variety of designs for industrial or commercial use. Some are simple flat trays, while others have raised edges, dividers, or specific shapes like circular or rectangular compartments. The materials appear to be primarily aluminum and stainless steel, with a few copper-colored ones. The background is plain white, highlighting the metallic surfaces and diverse forms of the trays.
