

Factory Wholesale Bulk 400*600*50mm Aluminum Perforated Tray Bread Cookie Biscuit Baking Sheet Tray Pan

Main features of aluminium perforated tray cookie baking sheet pan

1. Robust and Durable: this perforated tray is meticulously constructed from high-quality 1.0mm thick aluminum alloy metal. This ensures exceptional durability, making it capable of withstanding the rigors of everyday baking in your bakery, restaurant, or food factory.
2. Perforated Perfection: The surface of this baking tray features meticulously placed perforations that allow for superior heat distribution and airflow. This perforation design ensures that your baked goods come out evenly golden, crisp, and delicious every time. To further enhance its longevity, a wire is integrated into the rim for added strength and stability.
3. Standard Size, Maximum Convenience: Measuring at 400x600x50mm, this perforated baking tray adheres to the industry-standard size of 400x600mm. This means that it's compatible with most commercial ovens and fits seamlessly into your existing baking setup. Custom size is also available in our factory.
4. Versatile in Every Way: This baking tray is a multitasking marvel, capable of handling a wide range of culinary creations. Whether you're whipping up mouthwatering cookies, artisanal bread, or delicate biscuits, our baking tray has got you covered. It's the ultimate tool to unlock your baking potential and elevate your creations to a professional standard.
5. Affordable Excellence: Tsingbuy, a trusted perforated tray factory in the world of commercial baking pans, also offers you the perfect ODM&OEM service of commercial baking trays.
