

Heavy Duty 1.5mm Aluminum Non Stick Perforated Flat Baking Sheet Pan

Crafted for durability and precision, our perforated flat baking sheet tray is designed to meet the demands of commercial kitchens, bakeries, and serious home bakers. Engineered with high-quality materials and advanced manufacturing techniques, this pan ensures consistent results and long-lasting performance.

Key Features:

Heavy-Duty Commercial Construction – Made from 1.5mm thick premium aluminum, this flat baking sheet is built to withstand the rigors of daily commercial use. The sturdy material resists warping even under high temperatures, ensuring reliable performance in busy kitchens, bakeries, and food service operations. Its durability makes it a cost-effective investment for professionals who demand long-lasting bakeware.

Precision Machine-Stamped European Design – Manufactured using advanced machine-stamping technology, this flat baking sheet features a seamless one-piece construction for superior heat distribution and stability. The European-inspired design ensures even baking, reducing hot spots and improving cooking consistency.

Imported High-Performance Non-Stick Coating – The imported non-stick surface provides effortless food release and quick cleanup, saving time and effort in high-volume cooking environments. The coating performs well and is PFOA-free, making it a safer choice for food preparation.

Optimized Perforation for Enhanced Baking – The precision perforated design promotes optimal airflow, allowing for even browning and crispier results—perfect for pastries, bread, cookies, and other baked goods that require superior texture.

Custom Manufacturing Expertise – As a trusted ODM & OEM, Tsingbuy aluminum baking tray factory in China (since 2006) offers professional customization services to meet specific branding and production needs. Whether you require private labeling or bulk orders, we deliver high-quality commercial bakeware tailored to your requirements.
